CALL FOR PANELS

The theme for the 2024 Air Force Historical Foundation annual Symposium/Air & Space Museum Conference is “Technological Change in Air and in Space, 1920-2020.”

The Foundation is seeking combined academic/museum panels of 2 or 3 people that cover topics related to USAF airpower and space history, its applications and implications from the late during the the past century. It is a very broad topic and should allow a wide variety of panel proposals. The Foundation hopes to provide a forum for Air and Space Museums across the country to make presentations describing artifact collections, scholarship, exhibits, and changes in the technology of museums as well.

At present, eighteen panel openings are planned and will be competitively filled by the Program Committee. Selection will be made based upon strength of proposal and variety of subject.
